Class of 1956 Summer Fellowship

Unlike most summer fellowships at Yale, the Class of 1956 Davenport Fellowships favor projects that are not related to your course work or your senior essay. Instead, they offer $5,000 for you to do something you are passionate about that may not have anything to do with what you are studying--something you deeply want to do and would otherwise be unable to do during the summer before your senior year.

Yale – Sanergy Internship: Sustainable Sanitation in Nairobi's Urban Slums	Sanergy is an award-winning social venture in Nairobi, Kenya that builds healthy, prosperous communities by making hygienic sanitation accessible and affordable in Africa's urban informal settlements. Our systems-based approach to solving the sanitation crisis involves five key steps: we build a dense network of franchised micro-entrepreneurs, who operate low-cost, high-quality waterless sanitation facilities – called Fresh Life – as small businesses. We provide critical support services – such as access to finance, business analytics, training and aspirational marketing and branding. We collect the waste regularly and safely remove it from the community. We convert the waste into valuable by-products, such as organic fertilizer and animal feed. Finally, we sell the byproducts to Kenyan farms	Wednesday, March 25, 2020

You are pursuing community service:

Cahoon Summer Fellowship

We have recently learned that we will again be able to use a fund in Morse College that was set up by an alumnus to honor Herb and Jean Cahoon. Herb (who passed away in 2008) and Jean Cahoon (who passed away in 2014) were involved with the development of Dwight Hall student activities since 1961. They dedicated a substantial part of their careers to encouraging students to work in New Haven and generate life-long interest in the value of public service. The fund, known as the Cahoon Summer Fellowship, is an award of $3500. There may be multiple recipients, if adequate support can be given to each. You must register for this fellowship on the student grant fellowship data base. The Fellowship will be given to a student from Morse, including current seniors, for engaging in at least 7-8 weeks of community service in the New Haven area during the summer. Applications for the fund are due in the Morse Master's Office by Wednesday, March 6th, 2019. Applications will be reviewed both by members of the Morse administration and by senior staff at Dwight Hall. A decision will be announced by April 12th.

You are in a particular residential college:

[Your] College Richter Fellowship

This award is for independent study and research. It cannot be for mere travel, or for a program of work, however valuable. An internship, for example with a government agency, is a valid use only if there is a significant component of study or research, which must be carefully identified. Creative projects are also valid. "Independent" means that enrollment in courses is not in itself a valid use. Being part of a research team--in biology or archaeology, for example--is valid, since in certain fields research is typically done in teams rather than alone.

Varies per college

[Your] College Mellon Senior Research Grant

To provide funding to off-set the costs associated with a senior research project or senior essay. For funding research which must take place during the academic year and awardees must present the result of their research either to the Senior Mellon Forum or another educational forum in the college.

Varies per college

BERKELEY

Robin Berlin Fellowship

The award will be granted to students from Berkeley College, who have shown a commitment to and academic excellence in both the humanities and the natural sciences. It will be in the form of a fellowship for summer study that will further the student's knowledge and understanding of these two disciplines together.
